About Aermont Capital

Aermont Capital is a leading European real estate investor that seeks to capitalise on its operational and real estate expertise to generate long-term value, benefitting all stakeholders. Its investments feature prime assets or projects in major cities, or leading operating businesses.

Aermont has a demonstrated track record of growing and improving the businesses in which it invests, such as The Student Hotel, which has evolved from a Dutch business into a pan-European leader in student accommodation, and Pinewood Studios, which Aermont is transforming into the world's premier provider of infrastructure for high-end film and television production.

Its four successive funds have raised around €6.0 billion of equity commitments from a global group of prominent institutional investors.
